The injury to Milan has caused Gifirth to make decided changes in team. Today when the team takes field Howard Shanks will be found field Howard Shanks will be found centerfield. While this is a new pound to the one who usually adorder, the manager thinks that Shan speed will be sufficient to stand hin good stead so he will be play there in place of "Cube" Acosta, will take left in Shanks' place.

John Henry will catch this afterno so Griffith thinks that whatever il backstop is lacking in the matter hitting strength will be more than o set by the fact that he has been Aye regular receiver, and will aid great in bolstering up the defense.

The play that cost the Nationals the centerfielder led up to one of the means at the same time robbed Washing at the same time robbed Washing the rolls.

It was a drive to right center from the bat of Ray Chapman in the eight inning. Milan and Moeller both to after what appeared might develop in a triple, and so far did they have travel that it was not until they we within a few yards of each other the Moeller saw he could reach the leath and yelled for right of way.

By this time Milan could not che his speed, and he atumbled, crashing in the knee of the saw full against the knee of the same full against the same full against his jaw full against the knee of the flying Moeller. Moeller speared the bell just as he hit Milan, and, describ-ing a complete somersault, stuck the sphere up to show the umpires that he made the play.

But Milan did not rise. It was evident that he had received a stunning blow, but it was not until the x-ray was used last night that the compound fracture of the bone was proven.

Barring a mishao to Walter Johnson.

Barring a mishao to Walter Johnson, the Washington club could hardly receive a worse setback at this time than being deprived of the loss of Milan. While they are in fourth place, the Nationals continue to remain in the storm center of the struggle for the pennant, and the loss of the only regular who is hitting 300 is almost irreparable. "Cube" Acosta will understudy for Milan during the absence of the centerfielder, but the foreigner can hardly be mentioned in the same breath with the Tennessean in the matter of the Tennessean in the matter of Moeller will probably be shifted over to center today, leaving Acosta to play right. Walter Johnson was pounded for nine hits, which is considerably more than his usual meed, while Al Collamore allows but six safeties, two innings being the only weak spots in the performance of the Oblean.

The game was marked by uncertain

The same was marked by uncertain umpiring, the only redeeming feature of the work of the arbiters being that neither team was particularly favored by what appeared to be misleading decisions. In the fourth inning it appeared as though shanks was hit in the back in trying to get out of the way of a pitched hall, and when he rammed a liner into right, that looked as though it hit fully a foot inside the chalk mark, he was called back as Hildebrand called it a foul. With one out in the sixth Ray Chapman seemed to have reached third on an attempted sacrifice, but O'Loughlin tuled otherwise. These were the most flagrant cases of the day.
